LAST NIGHT: Waterloo Bucks left fielder Jackson Lyon (3-for-5, R, HR, 5 RBI) blasted a two-run home run and drove in five while Michael Mitchell (UC-San Diego) struck out six over 6.0 innings of three-run ball to lead Waterloo to an 8-6 win over the Duluth Huskies in Game One of the 2021 Great Plains-East Subdivisional Series on Sunday evening. The postseason win is the Bucks' first since the 2002 Northwoods League Championship game, giving them a 1-0 lead in the series. Mitchell cruised through his 6.0 innings of work to earn his second win of the season, allowing just two earned on six hits and a walk while punching out six. The righthander pounded the zone at a 64.4% rate while racking up 10 whiffs on 101 pitches. Anthony Pron (Stevens Tech) worked a scoreless seventh with one strikeout. Duluth scored two in the eighth, then put two men on in scoring position with none retired in the ninth. Zach Button entered into the jam, allowing a single then retiring the next three batters including one strikeout to earn his sixth save of the summer.

STORYBOOK SEASON: The 2021 Waterloo Bucks produced one of their most dominant seasons in recent memory, going 42-25 and winning both the First and Second Half Great Plains-East Championships. Waterloo's bats produced the second-highest scoring season in franchise history and led the Northwoods in average (.277), runs scored (463), runs per game (6.91) and on-base percentage (.388) while the team landed second in both run differential (+136) and OPS (.749). Bucks pitchers posted the fourth-lowest ERA (3.89) in the league.

WATERLOO RUNS ON DUNCAN: Duncan Davitt (Iowa) takes the mound as Waterloo's Game Two starter, going for a Subdivisional Series sweep over Duluth in one of the biggest starts of his Bucks career. The Hawkeyes Sunday starter is 4-2 over his 10 starts this summer, working 49.2 innings to a 3.26 ERA with a 53:21 K:BB ratio. Davitt has mowed down righthanded hitters, annihilating them to the tune of a .169/.270/.204 triple-slash for a .474 OPS against along with a 28.8% strikeout rate. Waterloo has won three of his last four starts and 12 of his 18 career bumps as a Buck.

THE PRIDE OF LIONS: Waterloo's Loyola Marymount duo of Sam Biller and Liam Critchett have been feature pieces at the plate down the final stretch of the regular season. Over his last six, Biller is slashing .400/.538/.700 for a 1.238 OPS with three doubles, one home run, nine RBI and six runs scored. Biller carries a 4:6 K:BB ratio and has gone 4-for-4 on stolen bases over his hot stretch. Critchett boasts a .300/.462/.500 triple-slash and a .962 OPS across his last six, scoring six runs, knocking in two while adding a double and a homer with a 3:5 K:BB rate. The lefthanded bat is crushing the ball with a 41.2% hard-hit rate. Neither player has shown much swing and miss over their hot streak, carrying swinging strike rates of just 6.1% and 6.7% respectively.

LYON ROCKS: Bucks outfielder Jackson Lyon (Cal State-Fullerton) earned Northwoods League Player of the Night honors after his monster three-hit, five-RBI performance in Waterloo's Game One win over Duluth in the Great Plains-East Subdivisional Series. Across his last five games, Lyon is hitting .429 with six runs scored, a double, three homers and eight RBI.

WHAT A RELIEF: The Bucks bullpen is one of the most reliable weapons in the Northwoods, having gone 23-9 with a 3.90 ERA and a 3.65 FIP across 297.2 innings of work. Waterloo relievers have held foes to a .237 average and a .673 OPS while striking out hitters at a 23.6% clip. The pen has converted 70.0% of save opportunities and has allowed just 27 of 83 inherited runners to score for a 67.5% strand rate.
